

Techs® Fabrics for Firefighter Garments

Protective garments for structural firefighting, wildland fire fighting, and rescue services are designed with optimum performance and comfort under strenuous circumstances in mind.

Our fabrics are engineered to make sure such garments provide optimal safety, durability, and comfort, ensuring structural firefighters, wildland professionals, and rescue teams receive the highest level of protection when they need it most.

